Khatri's Class Pulls 100%

(The following report was submitted by Dr. Daryao Khatri) This is to inform you all again that the retention rate in my Introduction to College Physics II course is also 100% again this semester. All students performed at the highest level in the course, one of the best performances so far in my teaching at UDC. If any one of you is interested in seeing the fabulous test papers of these students, please let me know. I will be more than glad to share them with you. Two class pictures are included. The first one has pictures of 16 students who were present on 11/28/06, and the other one has picture of one student who could not be in the class on the earlier day because of work. The second picture was taken on 12/5/06. I had the best of time teaching this diverse class. It is eye opening when you see every student succeeding, and almost 90% of them never missed a day of class. It is just an amazing situation taking place at the University of the District of Columbia. I do not believe any one else is claiming this success in any other institution of higher education in America. This section had 17 students registered for the course during the Fall Semester 2006 and all 17 were still attending classes as of 12/5/06. Thank you all for your continued support.
